Bachelor of Arts in Social Work with Psychology is a four-year undergraduate degree program under the faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences at TU.

Social Work is one of the globally recognized helping professions committed to improving people's lives. Social workers assist people in promoting relationships in communities in solving individuals & family problems. This profession is not limited to only individual & families but also in the field of youth issues & social development.

Psychology provides a solid base for further education or a wide range of career paths. Numerous graduates opt to pursue higher degrees, such as a Master's or Doctorate in Psychology, to become licensed psychologists or specialize in specific fields like clinical psychology, counseling psychology, or industrial-organizational psychology.
